

ABSTRACT

Green management becomes an integral part of the 4.0 industry. Environmental issues include; Depletion of natural resources, global warming, pollution (water, air, soil), industry accidents, and toxic waste. This problem is generally directed to the activities of the industry in developed countries. The rich community plays a 75% consumption of the world's resources and energy, creating most of the industry's waste, toxic, and consumer waste. Another equally disturbing picture is the continued development of the world's population and as developing countries are more market-oriented, the environmental problem is expected to deteriorate. TRI DHARMA Perguruan Tinggi one of them is community service. Community dedication this time done on the island of Bintan in cooperation with PT Aruna with participants of the students from four colleges. The results of all participants agree that the material provided to them benefits and adds to their knowledge.
